

iOS APP DEVELOPER

Studio Mosaic is looking for an iOS app developer having 2 to 4 years' experience in developing mobile applications for iOS devices.

Studio Mosaic is a fully-independent, self-funded app publishing studio. We have created StickMe Notes, Dictate4Me and a bunch of other apps in the productivity/business category that have been downloaded over 1 million times worldwide.

As we grow our team, we're looking to hire a sincere and motivated professional to play a key role on our team, working alongside other developers, designers and a product manager, to create world-class iOS apps.

The ideal candidate should be self-driven, comfortable to work independently in a start-up and should be extremely passionate about technology. You should be aware of the global iOS design guidelines and coding principles and should be constantly looking to learn new stuff to stay ahead of the game.
